Help run Hartnell? Join committee

Interested in running Hartnell? If so, you can throw in your money's worth by becoming a member of one or more faculty administration committees.

There are 14 committees needing ideas, but are without people to come up with them.

The Campus Master Planning Committee, chaired by the College President, Dr. Gibb Madsen, discusses future plans for the Hartnell College Campus. The President's Advisory Committee deals with all subjects of interest to the College, and especially with agendas for meetings of the Governing Board.

The Public Events Board decides on events that will be open for community attendance. Programs for the "Hartnell Presents" series have been selected by this group.

Hartnell Greek Theatre? Amphitheatre opening in December

"Look, you can see Shakespeare here and now," jokes Mr. Paul Peterson as he points toward the stage of the new amphitheater, nearing completion. However, the theater will be used for more than plays.

All extra-curricular activities for students and the community will take place in the amphitheater. Some of these include rock concerts, evening and day activities, visiting celebrities, speeches, plays and debates.

Hartnell's out-door theater is located behind the new swimming pool. It was included in the $6 million project for the new tennis and handball courts, the

Advertising? Sentinel does it

Have something to sell? Looking for a used book or car?

One of the best ways to get to Hartnell students and staff is through Sentinel Classified Ads. Deadline for ads is Monday night of the week the ad is to be published.

Prices follow: up to 10 words, 50 cents; over 10 words, 5 cents per each additional word.

Once a very active committee, the "Minority Group Issues Committee," melted into almost nothing last year. Mr. Holback, Associate Dean of Student Personnel, says, "It was at one time the hottest committee on campus." He said the lack of issues last year was detrimental to the club since it is "active simply out of necessity."

Although there is no committee for those interested in College art, all students who want to contribute to that aspect of the College can do so by working with the Community Services Office developing information brochures.

If you like to complain constructively, join one of the 14 faculty administration committees or help with art brochures, simply sign up in College Center 2.

pool complex, music and drama facilities, and a new indoor theater.

Some classes will also be held outside on sunny days in the "keevas" located on either side of the theater. These semi-circular dugouts are designed after the Indian keevas, where meetings were held.

The amphitheater will be completed in three months. Many people already have ideas for its use. "It's all up to everyone's imagination," says Mr. Peterson.

Chicken-que re-set for vote day, Commission to reorganize govt.

A 50 cent chicken barbecue and Fall elections will go together on Oct. 2.

At their regular meeting at 11 a.m. last Tuesday, the Associated Student Body Commissioners voted to hold the annual ASB barbecue the same day as the election to help draw a bigger turnout for both events.

Originally scheduled for last Tuesday, the barbecue was doomed because there were not enough funds budgeted, and because no one was committed to serving. Both problems were solved for the new date, however.

Tutoring, credits or cash

Are you interested in helping fellow students, but with some kind of reward for your efforts?

Such an opportunity is possible through Hartnell's tutor program. "Students can earn $2 an hour, or a maximum of two units for participating in this program," explains Bob Firth.

An organizational meeting for those interested in becoming tutors will be next Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the Little Theater.

Help - election deadline Monday

By Bernard Sepulgado and Loretta Bentley

Help! Hartnell is still without a Student Body vice president, sophomore representative and commissioner of women's athletics.

The deadline for all petitions is next Monday. All it takes to qualify is a 2.0 scholastic average, a minimum of 10.5 units and an ASB card. Officers will be appointed by the ASB Commission.

Hartnell is only as good as the Student Body makes it. For good activities and a great year, sign up now for an ASB office. Freshman class offices are also open.

Campaign speeches will be given in the College Center at 11 a.m. Tuesday. Elections will be held Oct. 2 and 3. Sign-ups and further information can be obtained from College Center 2.

The Commission transferred additional funds from other budgets, and the Hartnell songleaders and cheerleaders volunteered to serve. Starting time in the College Center will be 11 a.m.

In other actions, the Commission:

—Scheduled a bus to transport the band and the spirit team to the Reedley football game September 29 (another is going to Ventura tomorrow).

—decided to re-establish a goal of Commission-wide effort to reorganize student government at Hartnell.

All inquiries must be directed to D. Nixon, Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C. All information strictly confidential.*

"Watergate Follies"

The Watergate scandal is causing some interesting developments on the political scene. It seems that the "Uncle Sam" often seen trying to recruit men into the armed services has been replaced by "Uncle Sam J. Ervin, Jr." Who would have ever thought Uncle Sam might one day be president? It's possible. It would be difficult to guess how many angry housewives have watched Senator Ervin's "Watergate Follies" each weekday morning, afternoon and evening, after finding that their favorite soap opera has been cancelled.

Senator Ervin has made the new series more lovable to the average viewer, by adding bits of his southern humor. Senator Sam has been known to, on several occasions, mix jokes with his questioning of Watergate witnesses. It might seem, however, that if the Senator would limit the serious questions, and also limit the time used by the guest stars, he might make the show more enjoyable.

"Impeachment Proceedings"

There are rumors originating in Washington that the Senator's series might be canceled in early November. The replacement, however, is reported to be "Uncle Sam's Impeachment Proceedings." Senator Sam's co-stars on the show will be S. Agnew, Johnny Mitchell, and Dick Nixon.

"Watergate Follies," although cancelled from regular programming, will probably be back. Many stations are planning to rerun the popular series, right after "I Love Lucy."

Where else to go from here? Students offer their suggestions

By Loretta Bentley

Well, here you are folk, Hartnell Community College, the one you've heard so much about. Step right up and get your free education. That is what you are here for, isn't it? Or is it?

Hartnell's enrollment is currently over 4,000. A figure for which there must be a reason, or many reasons. Some people are here because it's close or cheap, some to improve their minds or job skills, some to prepare for a career, a few to get married and even more think as Pat Womble does, "I am going here because I don't have any place else to go."

"Nowhere else to go" is supported by the fact that 50 per cent of all community college students will find another place to stay before their sophomore year. Students are often pushed by parents or high school teachers into going to college and attend only because, in one girl's opinion, "They act like if you don't go to college, you will end up as a bum on skid row."

Most students seem to think as Robert Filson does that Hartnell is "O.K."

Hartnell is O.K., except that it doesn't jive with the opinion of some of the faculty and serious students. President Dr. Gibb Madsen, in particular, thinks that the quality of education at Hartnell stacks up well with any of California's state colleges.

One student who previously attended a Virginia community college said Hartnell outdistanced Virginia's whole junior college system both from an academic and a convenience standpoint. Another student from Virginia stated, "The community colleges here are better than those on the East coast. On the East coast they are run like a high school." He likes Hartnell for its friendliness and the sympathy of its instructors. "If you don't make it you've got a chance," he said.

Another student said, "Academically, I think it is an excellent school."

Student interest in Hartnell's social life was termed "apathetic" last year by athletes, cheerleaders and others whose thing is to get involved in something called "school spirit." Students' reasons for not participating were "no time," "no publicity," "lousy bands," "too old," "I have to work," and "why don't you?"

Apparently, Hartnell's "school spirit" is a truly elusive one.

In the final analysis, there are two main reasons for attending Hartnell College. The first is, as one student aptly put it, "Man cannot live by a high school diploma alone." The second is "Just because."

"Hartnell Presents" tribute to Guthrie

By Pat Mata

At 8 p.m. tonight, Woody Guthrie's "Hard Travelin'" will be presented in the new Men's Gym.

The cast of 14 will use all types of media, slides, movies, plus the theatrical, in this touching documentary on trucking through the Depression. All of Woody's material that most of us are familiar with will be sung in the program.

"This land is your land . . ." sang Woody, and this show is your show. Come experience him yourselves. There is no charge.

their team know that they are right behind them all the way. Some fans (bottom—right) showed their enthusiasm despite the cold weather that blanketed the Salinas High Stadium.

Panthers devour 1st season prey

When it comes around to kicking rear-ends on the battle field . . . the Hartnell Panthers don't mess around! Don't take my word for it . . . ask the Owls of Foothill. They have the bruises to prove it!

Last Saturday in Salinas the two teams made a go at winning their first game of the season. The sly and cunning Panthers of Hartnell, under the guiding hands of Coach Tony Teresa, devoured the antagonizing Foothill Owls in a 3-20 meal that was most appetizing to the estimated crowd of 2,000 which saw the kill in the Salinas High Stadium.

In the opening seconds of the first quarter, it was split-end Daryl Daniels who spirited the win by scrambling 54 yards for a first down on the Owl 18.

Four plays later, freshman quarterback Ernie Pascua, a graduate of North Salinas, then exhibited his slick and easy moves by cutting through the Owl defense for Hartnell's first touchdown of the night.

Steve Villegas then "started kicking" by taking his first of five extra points, giving the Panthers a 7-0 lead with 13:12 still remaining.

However, Foothill decided to do a little kicking on its own, and took 79 yards in 12 plays before passing for a touchdown. The Panthers however, foiled the Owl attempt for the extra point when Garnet Young partially blocked the kick.

Hartnell's second touchdown was set up by Bill Knight, a former Alisal Trojan, who recovered a fumbled punt on the Owl's 41. Pascua, who was taking the place of injured Mike Breschini, then passed to flanker Hank Rodriguez, who took the ball to Foothill's nine. James Turner, defensive end, then ran the ball in after two plays.

Fullback Mike Maeva, a recent graduate of N.S., took the spotlight in the second quarter when Toots Kaahanui, tackle, and tight end Dave Silveira paved the way for him to score another Hartnell touchdown. By the end of the first half, the score read Hartnell 21, Foothill 6.

The Owls weren't quite ready to call it quits . . . yet. By the second half, they decided to give Hartnell a little knowledge on how powerful an Owl really is. They held Hartnell long enough to up the score 21-12.

However, the Panthers could never keep in one place, or at one score, as the Owls soon found out. During the last 30 seconds of the 3rd quarter, Pascua ran for a touchdown, and Villegas kicked for that extra point to make it 28-12, and finally they put the cap over the game by making it 35-12 when Pascua hit Rodriguez for that touchdown.

The Owls gave their final efforts with 7:29 still remaining in the game by scoring their last touchdown to end the feast 35-20.

Hartnell meets "winner" in Ventura, adds two players to injured list

Tomorrow night, the Hartnell Panthers take on the Pirates of Ventura in what might be a fierce battle at Ventura, which is north of Los Angeles.

The Panthers devoured the Owls of Foothill last Saturday in a 35-20 romp, and Ventura's Pirates took their first game, beating Riverside College in a 26-14 contest. Both teams are looking forward to this one to increase their winning streak by one game.

Coach Tony Teresa added two more to his injury list when all-league defensive ace Robbie Morris and Mark Sosnoski, defensive tackle, were put out by Foothill.

"They're an option team," Coach Teresa said. "We'll be working quite a bit to stop them." He's hoping his injury-riddled team will be back to par by then. Ernie Pascua might start at quarterback again if Mike Breschini is unable to play.

Waterpolo new as sport here

By Tom Cherne

A new competitive sport enters the Hartnell scene this fall in water polo.

First year coach Mike Garibaldi states that "this is the first water polo team this college has had." The Panther mentor also commented that he has eight players on the team now, but would like to have at least 14, because the sport itself requires seven players to play at a time.

On the basis of team play, water polo is also very similar to both basketball and soccer, while possessing some of the roughness of competitive wrestling.

Garibaldi, who was a repeat N.C.A.A. All-American, an alternate to the 1964 Olympic team, and a participant on the 1965 National Champion team from Foothill College, also commented that water polo is a competitive sport in many other colleges and he hopes to make it such at Hartnell.

Providing the team is able to get more participants, it will play eight games this year. If the sport catches on, the team could play as many as 25 games in two or three years.

Water polo is open to any full time male student, so, guys, if you think you can handle it, why not come out and join the fun?

W.A.A. plans events; seeks officers

At the first meeting of the W.A.A. (Women's Athletic Association) September 18, President Nancy Frudden and Commissioner of Women's Athletics Janet Lyle announced that the club is seeking members for the officers of vice president, secretary, treasurer and publicity chairman.

One of the first events the group will sponsor will be a coed beach party at either Carmel or Santa Cruz. Also sponsored will be the usual winter ski trip and coed sports day.

The sports days are held at various community colleges in Northern Cali-

Members of the Hartnell women's basketball team do some running in a practice session earlier this week as part of their conditioning for the coming season. The lady hoopsters will open their season Oct. 11 at Cabrillo.

Women start basketball practice, advisor seeks more players

The women's basketball team has started conditioning and practice for its season, which opens early this year with a game at Cabrillo on Thursday, October 11.

fornia (usually De Anza, Foothill, S. F. City College, San Jose City and Chabot) and are open to any community college student in the A.S.B. (male or female).

One past misconception about being a member of the W.A.A. is that it is necessary to participate on one of the women's intercollegiate teams. The club welcomes any female student who likes to be active—whether in dance, gymnastics, intramural sports, parties, attending men's varsity events.

Advisors are Miss Buss, Miss West and Mrs. Howell.

The first home game for the lady hoopsters will be Thursday, Oct. 25, 5:30 p.m., against Napa Junior College.

Team advisor Carolyn West commented that the Pantherettes "will be forming a new team," as only four of the 18 players are returning from last year. Better height could also help make this year's group of gals a formidable outfit. Practices are from 5 to 6:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Miss West is the person to contact if interested in playing on the intercollegiate squad representing Hartnell. Below is the schedule of this year's games:

Three Japanese illustrators featured in gallery

By Pat Mata

With their 18th, and 19th century prints, the Japanese had contributed significantly to the art of the poster. By using the Oriental approach with the dynamics of the West, they have emphasized visual stimulation to the Western retina.

Perfect are the examples on exhibit inside the Hartnell Art Gallery. Three of Japan's most important illustrators-designers — Tadanori Yokoo, Keichi Tanaami and Harumi Matsumoto Yamaguchi — have exploded this powerful art medium.

Of the three, Yokoo is the most famous. His work "North American Personality-Miller" or often called here in the states "Brooklyn Boy," is the most popular here. He was the designer of the Textile Pavilion at Expo '70, and was also recipient of the first prize at the 1970 Paris Youth Biennial for Prints.

Keichi Tanaami is the Art Director for a huge Japanese candy company.

Harumi Matsumoto Yamaguchi, being one of the few successful women illustrators in Japan, has lots of works, and has done advertising for a large department store in Tokyo.

There are 32 posters on display, and you may see them right now. They are going to be here only until next Friday, September 28.

Club recruiting starts Monday

Club Week starts this Monday, Sept. 24, and all clubs eager to dive into activity will be lined up on the starting blocks.

Representatives from those clubs having officers in attendance at last Tuesday's I.C.C. meeting will be distributing information on their respective clubs at booths set up for the purpose.

Clubs that have been active in recent years include "Black Student Union," "Delta Psi Omega," "Garbage Club," "Newman Club" and "Bahai Club." The clubs not yet stale total 40.

No new clubs have been formed so far this year, but anyone wishing to start one should seek information from College Center 2.
